

Global Market weekly wrap

26-May-2026

Weekly Market Wrap

Global markets were dominated by escalating Middle East conflict, driving oil prices above $100 and fueling inflation fears. This strengthened the USD, delayed rate cut expectations, and broadly pressured equities, while commodity performance was mixed based on specific drivers.

Dow Jones Industrial Average (DJI)

Latest Price	%1D	%1W	%1M
46,558.47	-0.26	-1.99	-5.85

Weekly Market Wrap

US equities ended lower, pressured by escalating Middle East conflict, surging oil prices, and delayed Fed rate cut expectations. Weak Q4 GDP and PCE data were overshadowed by inflation concerns. Chipmakers outperformed, while software giants led declines.

Shanghai Composite (SSEC)

Latest Price	%1D	%1W	%1M
4,095.45	-0.81	-0.70	0.48

Weekly Market Wrap

China's industrial output and retail sales surpassed expectations, indicating a strong start to 2026, yet property declines and rising unemployment remain concerns. Stocks were weighed by Middle East tensions and potential US trade summit delays.

Nikkei 225 Historical Data

53,819.61	-1.16	3.11	-4.86

Weekly Market Wrap

Japanese stocks fell amid Middle East uncertainty and volatile oil prices, exacerbating concerns about imported inflation. The weak yen continues to challenge the oil-importing economy ahead of the Bank of Japan's policy decision.

Euro Stoxx 50 (STOXX50E)

Latest Price	%1D	%1W	%1M
5,717.65	-0.54	-0.04	-4.47

Weekly Market Wrap

European equities closed the week lower, driven by escalating Middle East conflict, higher energy prices, and surging bond yields. Inflationary pressures and credit cost concerns impacted financials and industrials, with rate hike outlook weighing.

KOSPI (KS11)

Latest Price	%1D	%1W	%1M
5,487.24	-1.72	-1.75	3.57

Weekly Market Wrap

KOSPI extended losses, impacted by rising Middle East geopolitical tensions and surging oil prices, raising inflation and growth risks for the energy-importing economy. The won weakened significantly, despite verbal intervention.

Nifty 50 (NSEI)

Latest Price	%1D	%1W	%1M
23,151.10	-2.06	-5.31	-10.29

Weekly Market Wrap

Indian equities recovered slightly on hopes of easing energy supply disruptions from the Strait of Hormuz. However, crude oil prices above $100 sustained inflation and growth concerns, pressuring the rupee and prompting foreign outflows.
